

Who Am I?

Print and cut apart the name tags. Have kids randomly choose a tag (but don't have them look at what their tag says!). Tap the tags to the backs of their shirts. When you say "Go!" have the kids ask Yes or No questions of each other, trying to determine what is on their tag. You can use the names below, or print the blank cards and add names of characters from movies, books, or cartoons, depending on the age and interests of the kids.

Example: Am I an animal?

Give kids a designated amount of time to ask questions – 2-5 minutes depending upon the number of kids, then have each of them take turns guessing what their own tags say based on the answers they heard to their questions.
